

Laredo Buffelgrass

Laredo Buffelgrass was developed and selected for increased forage production with the added advantage of blight tolerance. Laredo has the same nutritional value as Common Buffelgrass, however has consistently produced over 25-30% more forage on an annual basis over Common and other commercially available buffelgrass varieties. The added blight tolerance of the new Laredo Buffelgrass provides a sense of security against the damaging and devastating effects of buffelgrass leaf blight. With increased forage production, excellent forage quality and disease tolerance, Laredo Brand Buffelgrass Blend is the new solution to the always difficult environment of south Texas and Northern Mexico.
